This class contributes to the fulfillment of requirements for the development field for Economics Ph.D. students at the University of Maryland.

Pre-requisites: Graduate level micro-economics and econometrics are required for this class (ECON 603, 604, 623 and 624 or their equivalent).

Requirements: An essential requirement of the class is the mandatory paper readings. There will be one paper assigned for every lecture. You must read this paper extremely carefully. We will discuss this paper at length in class. Instead of presenting details of the paper, we will assume everyone has read it and discuss specific details of the paper. Cold-calling should be expected and participation will be required. Participation in class discussion regarding these readings will count for 30% of the grade. A final, which covers the entire class, will count for 50% of the grade, to be held on Monday, May 17\textsuperscript{th} 2007 at 10:30AM. The remaining 20% will come from a referee report due two on April 22\textsuperscript{nd} 2010 (in class). More details on that assignment to follow.

To sign up for my office hours, please follow the instructions on my website in the section “Office hours”. While this implies a little bit of work at the onset where each of you has to sign up, it will facilitate coordination as the semester progresses. All class materials will be posted on the google website.

Everyone is encouraged to attend the Development, Trade, Institutions and Politics Seminar, which meets on Mondays, from 3:30 to 5:00PM. The Labor Economics and Public Finance Seminar, which meets on Thursdays from 3:30 to 5:00PM, may also be of interest.
