

Washington DC Industrial Organization Conference Friday May 25, 2018

Call for Papers

Submissions are invited for the fifth Washington DC Industrial Organization Conference to be held in the University of Maryland suite at 1400 16th Street NW in downtown DC on Friday May 25, 2018. The conference seeks papers dealing with theoretical, policy or empirical topics related to Industrial Organization, broadly defined, as well as research descriptions from graduate students who would like to present their work in a poster session. The program committee (Emek Basker, Nate Miller and Dan Vincent) will select papers and discussants.

Please submit .pdf copies of papers to dcioday2018@gmail.com by March 16, 2018. Graduate students interested in presenting posters should submit a two-page description of their research topic and current results. Selected authors will be notified in April.

Registration information will be circulated in March 2018.
